

Brad Cronin, CFPS is an instructor for the Automatic Fire Alarm Association (AFAA). He has over twenty years of experience in the fire service, and is currently a Captain with the Newport, Rhode Island Fire Department. Brad is Vice President of Fire Protection with Strategic Code Solutions in Kingston, MA and serves as an instructor for the Massachusetts State Fire Academy and National Fire Academy. He has also been an instructor and author for the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA), contributing as an author to handbooks and textbooks. Brad serves as a chair and member on several NFPA Technical Committees and UL Standards Technical Panels. He is a Certified Fire Protection Specialist, has BS degrees from Saint Michael's College and University of Cincinnati, and a Master's in Public Administration from Anna Maria College.

